

Announcements and News from Miss Trenkamp

When the students return, they will be reviewing the season of Easter in religion. In science, the students will begin a mini-unit on the geological processes that effect Earth's surface. In social studies, the students will move into their next ancient civilization of Ancient China. In math, the students will begin their geometry unit with learning the area of various shapes. In reading, the students will begin their fantasy unit with the novel A Wrinkle in Time.

Thursday, Father joined the class to celebrate a Seder meal. This is the Passover meal that Jesus would have celebrated at the Last Supper. The students discussed the history behind the meal, and what each food at the meal represents.

I hope everyone has a safe and enjoyable spring break. It will offer an opportunity to recharge and rest. When students return, they will be heading toward the finish line. I will meet with each of them individually, to discuss how I can support them in meeting their final goal of the year.

The students are assigned no homework over spring break, except for making sure that they have their book report completed upon returning to school on April 11th.

Easter Blessings,

Jordan Trenkamp

What did we do last week?

This week in religion, the students continued learning about original unity, and the power of our similarities and differences. In math, the students finished their units on function tables, and were introduced to using the operations with all integers. In science, the students presented on weathering, erosion, and deposition. In social studies, the students concluded their unit on the Renaissance by recreating Leonardo da Vinci's flying machine. In reading, the students concluded the novel Westing Game with wanted posters and a summarizing activity.
